

Angelo Giardina, MBA, CPA, CA, is a Director in the Thought Leadership group at the Canadian Public Accountability Board. Angelo is focused on raising awareness, stimulating conversations, and encouraging the sharing of views on audit quality issues, including the role of the audit committee, external auditor and management in enhancing audit quality, and the current and future direction of audit in Canada and internationally. Angelo leads CPAB's crypto-asset working group which deals with auditing challenges associated broadly with blockchain technology.

Angelo started his career at KPMG in their financial institutions audit practice followed by leadership roles in finance at TD Bank and RBC Bank.