

Giuseppe (Joe) Spinelli is an IT Inspections Director at the Canadian Public Accountability Board (CPAB). He is focused on supporting CPAB's inspections regarding the work that auditors perform when testing IT processes and controls that support an intended audit approach. Joe is also involved in a number of other initiatives including enhancing CPAB's understanding of how the use of technology is changing the audit and impacting the quality of audits.

Joe started his career at EY in Montreal in a financial audit role within EY's Retail & Manufacturing groups and later joined EY's IT audit group.

He has held various positions working for public companies such as Bell Canada and more recently Gildan Activewear, where he was Head of Internal Audit.
